FACTORYTALK CHOSEN AS STRATEGIC PARTNER BY CM PLUS CORPORATION

YOKOHAMA, JAPAN – April 9, 2014 – CM Plus Corporation, Japan’s leading Engineering Design company for the Pharmaceutical, Biotech and Medical Industries, and Factorytalk Co., Ltd., Thailand, jointly announced a partnership for GMP facility design and construction management. Factorytalk will be the official partner for CM Plus in Thailand initial as a sales and service partner.

Factorytalk’s expertise and experience in GxP Compliance Services throughout South East Asia in operations, facility and compliance improvement projects will allow CM Plus to gain new customers and to ensure the highest quality of service and support for their existing clients and projects throughout the region. In addition, aligning Factorytalk’s proven technology solutions with the suite of CM Plus’ engineering services enables end-to-end support from conceptual facility design through all stages of design and construction to incorporate operational excellence to GxP with the integration of IT and automation systems.

"CM Plus Corporation have an extensive track record in engineering and in Pharmaceutical facility design services and demonstrate exceptional value for their Japanese and Multinational clients in establishing new, efficient and compliant production sites to deliver on time and in budget" commented David Margetts, Managing Director at Factorytalk. "We are very proud to partner together with CM Plus to bring this experience and expertise to Thailand and to offer the synergy with Factorytalk’s consulting and solutions teams to support the construction of world class production facilities from design to operation. Modern and advanced technology systems are fundamental for efficient and compliant production and are a critical consideration from the initial feasibility stages through all the design steps. This powerful integration is enabled by the CM Plus and Factorytalk partnership."

“It’s been a long lasting business target for us to establish a firm base in Thailand as the Thai economy has been rapidly growing, particularly in its high-tech industries including pharmaceutical and biotechnology” said Tsunehiro Togashi, President and CEO of CM Plus. “Factorytalk is a leading consulting company in ASEAN as well as in Thailand and are uniquely strong in IT. It was a great opportunity for CM Plus that we met Factorytalk in Bangkok one year ago and soon found each other to be a best-fit business partner with confidence that our partnership would provide synergy to create, in a real sense, a “One-Stop” shop of professional services to contribute to the customers in Thailand. I am now indeed thrilled at our challenges in Thailand and SE Asia.”
